Thank you for the very detailed annual report which seemed spot on to me..

Good to know we are singing from the same hymn sheet and teaching the same child! Sometimes they do seem to behave differently at home and at school.

I find the newsletter useful, but it could be better-You could publish learners and carers of the week and a weekly and termly diary. Reminders are very useful when trips are about o happen—especially if letters are sent out well in advance it helps with child care arrangements.

Yes, we did publish the carers and learners once. Then we found that there was not enough space on the sheets for all the news items we had and they were squeezed out. We will put them back. Dates for this term are published today. See opposite.

My child is not being harassed and bullied at school but sometimes girls can be cruel to each other at play times. Can play time supervisors be vigilant, please.

The reason for the SEAL– (Social and emotional aspects of learning) initiative– See last week’s newsletter.

PARKING-PARKING-PARKING

Inconsiderate parking is again causing offence to those who live in and around our school. It is unlawful to park on zig zag lines and to obstruct the entrances to property. As complaints are made almost every week, we have asked the local police to keep a vigilant eye out.

Please ensure that we have your correct contact details in the office. If we should need to get in touch with you or another family member in an emergency we would need it!
